P R E F A C E

The Union Territory of Puducherry comprising of two districts has its boundaries facing the Bay of Bengal and Arabian Sea, thereby susceptible to various natural disturbances like floods, landslides, cyclone, sea surge, tsunami etc. The Union Territory has been classified as moderately susceptible to earthquakes. Traditionally, the role of Government during natural calamities was only limited to rescue, relief and rehabilitation. However, it has now been rightly perceived that prediction, preparedness and effective disaster response as the main components of disaster management. There is a constant need for updating the disaster plans for strengthening the organization both qualitatively and quantitatively at various levels.

The Department of Revenue and Disaster Management has, in this handbook, compiled and brought out a compendium of plan of action evolved by line departments in organizing rescue, relief and rehabilitation measures on the eve of the impending northeast monsoon season. The officers of this administration are requested to kindly go through the content and send their response so as to revise and update the information, wherever needed.

ADDITIONAL SECRETARY (REVENUE)

CHAPTER-I INTRODUCTION

Indian sub continent is prone to multi faceted disaster and highly vulnerable to both natural and man-made disasters generally result in heavy loss of life; sometimes even leading to mass casualties. The last few decades have shown an increased frequency of disasters resulting in large number of human casualties and huge economic losses. In the case of many such disasters, human and economic losses can be minimized to quite an extent even though they may not be totally preventable.

There has been a paradigm shift in the government's focus from a rescue, relief and recovery-centric approach to planning, prevention, mitigation and preparedness driven approach. Community is the first responder to any type of disaster. Planning and preparedness at all level is most essential to face the challenges posed by disasters.

This U.T. has a coastline of 45 km stretching along the Bay of Bengal and to some extent along the Arabian Sea. Puducherry region alone has 24 km of coastline, Karaikal has 20 km stretch and Yanam has 1km stretch of coastline. The U.T. also has 675 sq. km of inshore waters. The Puducherry U.T. is prone to many natural hazards like floods, cyclones and earthquakes. In the past, cyclones and associated storm surges have inundated vast area of land along the coastal stretches of Puducherry U.T. The major part of this U.T. lying on the coast of Bay of Bengal is influenced by North East Monsoon. The heavy rain/cyclone that occur under the influence of North East Monsoon sometime causes heavy damage to life and property.

While not all natural calamities can be predicted and prevented, a state of preparedness and ability to respond quickly to a natural calamity can considerably mitigate loss of life and property and the human suffering and restore normalcy at the earliest. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that a plan of action for dealing with contingencies that arise in the wake of North East Monsoon is formulated and periodically updated.

Every planning has its own aims and objectives. Although the features of both Puducherry and Karaikal districts of this U.T. are not much different, there are certain peculiar characteristics that make the districts unique. In the very fact, the planning of any activity in the districts shall be specific and down to earth. For a better development and sustainability of growth a better planning is required. The basic objective of this Disaster Management Action Plan for Cyclone and Flood is to protect all its residents and every kinds of wealth from all sorts of untoward incidents through the following objectives.

Objectives of this Action Plan

1. To prevent loss of human lives and property.
2. Institutionalization of disaster management in district administrations.
3. Encouraging a culture of disaster preparedness.
4. Vulnerability reduction and disaster mitigation through better planning process.
5. Creation of the best Govt. mechanism to handle any unprecedented events.
6. Instant response and effective decision making in disasters.
7. Better coordination of relief and rehabilitation aftermath of a disaster.
8. Better coordination of all line departments in disaster management.
9. Regular update of resources available in and around the Districts.
10. Addressing disaster management training and awareness creation.

As such, this plan has been prepared taking into account the existing infrastructure, available resources, previous type of disasters that have occurred and their possibility of recurrence in future. It is meant to serve as an action plan for the District Administration, as well as to the other Governmental organizations and others. All the departments already plunge into action at short notice.

To mitigate miseries of sufferings of any calamity, relief in cash and kind is provided to the sufferers and rescue operations are provided on considerable scale. Besides this repair and restoration works are taken on priority. To cope up with the situations, Control Room / District Emergency Operation Centre in the Collectroate of Puducherry and Karaikal functioning round the clock. Different Department have different roles to play in the disaster period. Accordingly, Control Room had been setup in all major line departments such as Police, Fire Fighting Force, Home Guards, Forest Department and Health etc., to take up the rehabilitation measures, at short notice with the available resources.

The need for an effective disaster management strategy to lessen the disaster impact is increasing being felt in many quarters. The State Governments, has a major respondent in disaster situation, are responsible for preparedness and mitigation measures, in additions to organizing an effective disaster response mechanism. In this contest, uniformity in response mechanism, including scale of assistance in various parts of the country is imperative. In view of the increasing trend and intensity of natural disasters in recent past, the need for strengthening organizational structure of disaster management at various levels and revising/regular updating of codes/manuals, disaster plan to the state was also being felt.

Preparedness is more essential as prevention is out of bounds. It is therefore, absolutely necessary that a comprehensive plan of action is evolved not only in organizing rescue, relief and rehabilitation measures but also in disaster response preparedness, thereby considerably mitigate the disastrous effects of all such natural calamities. The importance of well laid-out strategy both material and psychological to deal with situations arising out of such a natural calamity and an elaborate action plan for proactive measures in disaster prone areas can hardly be over emphasized.

The major area of the Union territory of Puducherry ie., Puducherry region and Karaikal District are more vulnerable to North East Monsoon and this manual is being prepared having reference to North East Monsoon. But this manual is also suitable to flood and cyclone that occur during other seasons of the year.

CHAPTER-II

PROFILE OF PUDUCHERRY

Geographical profile

The Union Territory of Puducherry is spread in an area of 492 Sq. Km. which constitutes of the four erstwhile French establishments of Puducherry, Karaikal, Mahe and Yanam.

Location

The Union Territory of Puducherry consisting of two districts, situated at different geographical locations isolated from one another. Puducherry region, which is the largest of all the four, lies on the east-coast, consisting of 12 scattered areas lying in between  $11^{\circ} 42' 12'' 30'$  N, and between  $76^{\circ} 36'$  and  $79^{\circ} 53'$  E. Karaikal region is about 150 Km. south of Puducherry and is surrounded by Nagapattinam District of Tamil Nadu. It is located between  $10^{\circ} 49'$  and  $11^{\circ} 01'$  N, and  $79^{\circ} 43'$  and  $79^{\circ} 52'$  E. Yanam region is located between  $16^{\circ} 42'$  and  $16^{\circ} 46'$  N and  $82^{\circ} 11'$  and  $82^{\circ} 19'$  E. at about 840 Km. North East of Puducherry near Kakinada in Andhra Pradesh. Mahe region lies almost parallel to Puducherry between  $11^{\circ} 42'$  and  $11^{\circ} 43'$  N and  $75^{\circ} 31'$  and  $75^{\circ} 33'$  E at 653 Km. away on the west-coast near Tellicherry in Kerala.

Climate

Semi-arid type of climate, with a mean annual temperature of around  $30^{\circ}$  C and 70-85 % relative humidity, is prevalent in the Union Territory. While Puducherry and Karaikal regions receive rain mostly through North-East monsoon, Mahe and Yanam regions benefit from the South-West monsoon.

Topography

Puducherry Region

The region is flat country of average elevation of about 15 meters above sea level, intersected by the deltaic channels of River Gingee and Pennaiyar and other streams forming the two main drainage basins, interspersed with lakes and tanks. To the North-West of Puducherry town, a girdle of low hills (or an elevated ground of about 30 meters high) is noticed to extend in a East North East – West South West direction. This high ground suddenly emerges from the low alluvial plain country known as “Les Montagnes Rouges” or the “Red Hills of Puducherry”, or Gorimedu, probably so named after the memorials put up during the first siege of Puducherry (1760). This forms the most prominent feature in the landscape. River Gingee crosses the region diagonally from north-west to south-east. Pennaiyar forms the southern border. Actually the alluvial delta of Pennaiyar is almost on dead level ground, only a few meters above the sea. To the north-west of this hills is a section of fossiliferous limestone formations of the Cretacian age. To the south of this area is situated the alluvial tract of Varahanadi (Gingee) and to the north is the recent alluvium.

Puducherry area is said to mark the northern limit of sediments laid down during the great Cenomanian marine transgression along the east coast of South India. According to geologists, the high ground might have been formed due to faulting and upliftment along a plane extending in a general E.N.E–W.S.W. direction. The Muthirapalayam water wells with plentiful of water may be lying along the plane postulated fault. According to them, the lateritised scrap of the Cuddalore rocks west of Kalapet may also be representing a fault which, when extended, joins the Red Hills.

Black clays and simulating marine clays have been observed in well cuttings to the west and south west of Puducherry with local intercalation of peaty materials and sands. The persistence of the horizon over a considerable area is said to be suggestive that the area at one time must have been a lagoon. There are evidences to show a gentle submergence along the east coast perhaps during the Pleistocene times. During the period several changes seem to have taken place including the changes of course of certain rivers. According to geomorphologists the straight shore line is also suggestive of some structural dislocation. Shallow bays were formed during the submergence, the limits of which may be traced from the presence of black sticky clays recorded in the area.

The unusual thickness of alluvium near Puducherry (which is stated to exceed 167 meters) is said to indicate that it was part of an extensive lagoon, which has since been silted up and uplifted. Beds of peat at various levels below the surface of the ground have been recorded near Puducherry. The coastal border has a length of 24 Km. and a breadth ranging from four to six hundred meters. Superficially the coast is flat and sandy.

The coastal zone of Puducherry comprises newer and older dunes including saline areas of clayey texture. The other zone is made up of the two plateaus called Podicherry plateau and the Thiruvakkarai plateau composed of geological formation called the "Cuddalore sandstone". The upper layers are made up of red transported ferralitic soil. The Valudavur plain lies between these Plateaus. Marshy depressions are also frequently encountered in the plains of Valudavur. The flat alluvial zone occupies the rest of the Puducherry region.

Karaikal Region

Forming part of fertile delta, the region is completely covered by the distributaries of Kaveri river. Covered completely by a thick mantle of alluvium of variable thickness, the lie of the region is flat having gentle slope towards the Bay of Bengal in the east. It is limited on the north by the Nandalar and on the south east by the Vettar. The group of rocks known as Cuddalore formations is met with in the area contiguous to Karaikal region in Tanjore District.

Yanam Region

The region is bounded on the east and south by the river Godavari which discharges itself into the Bay of Bengal after flowing about 14 km. towards south east. The town of Yanam is located at spot where the River Coringa and Godavari separate to divide the region into two parts, one on the east and the other on the west. The entire region is composed of a flat, monotonous terrain without any distinct topographical feature.

Mahe Region

Mahe is a small area bounded on the south west by the Arabian Sea, on the north by the River Ponniam (Moolakadavu) and on the other sides by a stretch of calcareous hills of medium height which are linked to the ghats by a series of wooded hillocks. The river Mahe which flows towards the west, divides the region into two parts.

UT Administration

Puducherry is a union territory of India, not a separate state, governed directly by the federal authority in New Delhi. Puducherry is among the two union territories (including Delhi) which have the constitutional amendments to have a legislative assembly and a cabinet of ministers headed by a Chief Minister. The Puducherry Municipal Council looks after the civic administration of the city.

The UT is administered by the Lt. Governor who resides at Raj Nivas, the former palace of the French Governor. The Administrator is appointed by the President of India and is responsible for the general administration of the territory. The Central government is more directly involved in the financial well-being of the territory, as against the states where financial administration, given a budgeted central grant is the responsibility to the state governments

Agriculture

Agriculture is one of the most important occupations for the people of Puducherry. About 45% of the total population of the UT depends directly or indirectly on farming. The main crop of this territory is paddy. The plantation wealth of the UT lies in Mahe region mainly. Crops like coconuts, arcanuts, condiments and spices are grown in less quantity. Pulses, groundnut and chillies are other crops grown in Yanam.

The cash crops like Sugarcane, cotton and groundnuts are now grown in various parts of the territory. Most of the areas are irrigated. The major sources of irrigation are tanks and tube wells.

Milk production is another source of income for the rural people. It is organized by the co-operative societies located in different villages. Puducherry is also successful in having a cooperative milk producers' society which pasteurizes the milk and distribute in the entire region under the brand name of "Ponlait".

Fishing is another important occupation for the coastal people as the territory extends a length of 45 km of coastline. There are some 28 sea fishing villages in this region.

Culture

The culture of Puducherry is synonymous with the culture and tradition of Tamil Nadu, Kerala and Andhra Pradesh due to the scattering of the regions of the UT in these states.

Fairs and festivals are essential part of Puducherry's age old culture. Festivals ranging from spiritual to cultural and even gourmet or food are celebrated all through the region with great fervour and enthusiasm.

Puducherry's tradition of art & crafts has been evolved under different colonial era. The creativity is seen among the local people involved in making items related to Terracotta, Miniature Paintings, Batik, Screen printing; producing Incense Sticks, Candles, Greeting Cards, Dinning Mat and Wooden serving mat etc are among other products. Some traditional artisan groups are also involved in making Hammocks, Bags, Garments and Hand knitted woolen garments, etc.

ECONOMY

Puducherry, a union territory of India has been defined as an administrative unit but its economy does not have an autonomous existence owing to its four separate geographical areas viz. Puducherry and Karaikal in Tamil Nadu, Mahe in Kerala and Yanam in Andhra Pradesh.

The economy of each of these four sub-units is related to its respective state, and has little to do with the rest of the Union Territory as such. The two regions Mahe and Yanam are economically integrated with their respective states Kerala and Andhra Pradesh. Even in the case of Puducherry, the land area is non-contiguous, since there are several enclaves of Puducherry within Tamil Nadu.

The economy of Puducherry can be characterized as an "open" economy with flows of virtually all factors of production including natural resources, labour, capital and technology.

Puducherry's financial flow not only takes place from adjoining states, but also from different parts of the country in various forms for investments, services, etc. There are also flow from outside the country due to both remittances from NRIs and pensions paid by the French Government.

The 'openness' of the economy is also reflected in the movement of goods and services both into and out of Puducherry, particularly to the neighboring states. In the past, the low sales tax rates in the Union Territory led to the diversion of goods to and from Puducherry. However, the imposition of the uniform floor rates will reduce the possibility of such diversion. The impact of this policy will be felt not only on government finances but may be to some extent on economic activity as a whole in the Union Territory.

This union territory is not very rich in mineral resources but has some land under forests. The sea is a major natural resource for the people for fishing which adds to the rural economy.

Irrigation & Drainage System in Puducheryr & Karaikal regions

Puducherry

In Puducherry region, as per the statistical records of the year 2005-06, the area brought under total cropped area is as 24,256 Ha of which 17,323 Ha are irrigated by means of tube wells. Ground water is the main source of irrigation, which constitutes 100% of total cropped area. Two rivers run into Puducherry region flowing from the neighbouring district of Tamilnadu at the estuary point viz., South Pennaiyar and Gingiyar. Gingiyar, which is otherwise called as Sankaraparani. The two rivers and their branches are not perennials.

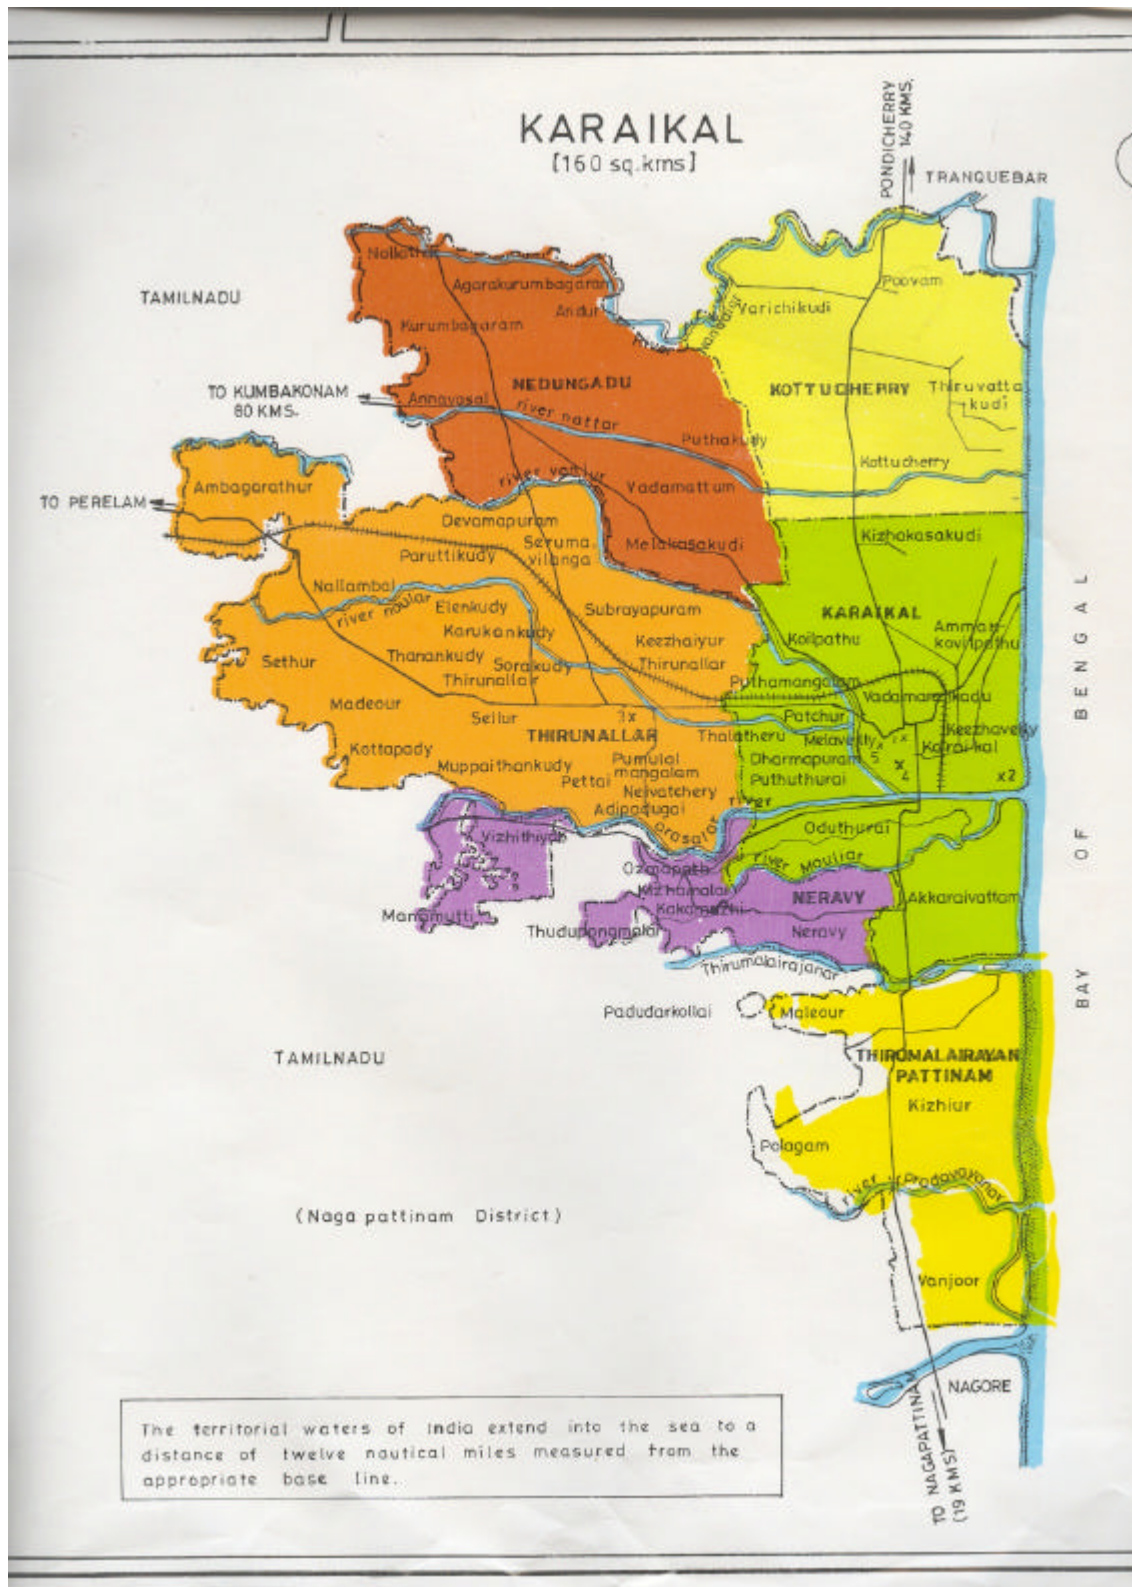

The Puducherry region is bestowed with 83 tanks which scattered in all over the region usually fills up during the North East Monsoon. In the back drop of depletion of ground water table, water is stored in the tanks for replenishing the ground water. In such way, tanks are serving only as a recharging mechanism by which groundwater table have enhanced considerably simultaneous with the prevention of intruding seawater in to sweet water aquifers. The water availability from this source for irrigation has been firmly inadequate. Hence, the necessity for more dependency on groundwater has been automatically increasing. As far as Puducherry region is concerned 100% of irrigation activities are undertaken depending upon ground water source. Paddy is the principal crop amongst all the crops cultivated in the wet land for three crop season irrigated my means of tube wells. Ponds exist in all over Puducherry region but they are not used for agricultural activities.

Karaikal

Karaikal region is the deltaic region of this U.T., which is at terminus of Cauvery having the total cropped area of 10187 Ha as per the statistical record of 2005-06 where cultivation activities gain momentum by the surface flow irrigation scheme. There seven tributaries of Cauvery with off take terminal in Tamilnadu finally confluences in Bay of Bengal. These rivers are not perennial. Water flows into this only when Mettur dam constructed at Cauvery basin in Tamilnadu is opened. The release of water from this dam supplies to the Cauvery, Vennar and Grand Anicut. The surplus water goes to Kollidam, Arasalar is a major tributary of Cauvery which bifurcates at Kabisthalam. Further it bifurcates into Nattar and Arasalar at Sakkottai, Kumbakonam. The Nattar branches of into Nattar and Vanjiar. The Arasalar bifurcates at AN Head into Arasalar and Noolar have 1/3 of Ayacut of this region. Kudamurutty is another major irrigation river, which in takes from Cauvery at Pappanasam. Thirumalairajanar in takes at Rajagiri from this river and finally flows into Bay of Bengal. Pravaianar is another branch, which offtakes from at South Puthur and North Puthur run through this region before confluence into the sea. Nandalar is another tributary of Veera Chozhanar which offtakes at Govinda Kazhagam. The Nandalar is having a tail end regulator at Nallathur and confluence into the sea at Chandirapadi in Tamilnadu. Karaikal is mainly depending upon flows into the Cauvery River usually released from Mettur dam in the second week of June and Kallanai dam by third week of June. In Karaikal region canal irrigation is main source of irrigation over which Paddy cultivation is undertaken for three seasons. Ponds exist but they are not used for agricultural activities.

CHAPTER-IV

Vulnerable Areas (Flood, Cyclone)

Vulnerability is defined as “the extent to which a community, structure, service, or geographic area is likely to be damaged or disrupted by the impact of particular hazard, on account of their nature, construction and proximity to hazardous terrain or a disaster prone areas”. The concept of vulnerability therefore leads to calculation of risk. Risk management would therefore mean the level of social and economic ability to cope with the resulting event in order to resist major disruption or loss. This susceptibility and vulnerability to each type of threat will depend on its respective differing characteristics.

The rainfall data and water holding capacity of different tanks mentioned in the previous chapter give a knowledge to what extent the community withstand the flood situation. But it is not predictable in respect of low lying areas where the habitation exists as the situation not only depends on the rainfall but to what extent the area has been facilitated in draining the rainwater. Therefore in order to have periodical maintenance and to monitor the situation during rainy season list of low lying areas is given in the Annexure - V.

Those vulnerable have to be given top priorities, immediate relief and rehabilitation has to be effected without much delay. Preparedness and prevention measures are cast upon more particularly on PWD and Local Administration Department and their duties and responsibility are enunciated in the various chapter in this manual.

CHAPTER –V

CONTINGENCY PLAN

The emergency planning and implementation fall in the domain of the State Governments. The various States have contingency Plan for emergency related to various calamity such as Flood, Cyclone, Earth Quake etc., Planning and preparing the community for any particular disaster is more essential. So that the sudden onset of any disaster can be taken effectively. Therefore, this Contingency Plan is more concentrate on flood and cyclone.

Contingency Action Plan – Action points

A Contingency Action Plan covers the following issues: -

I Steps required to be taken before the disaster

- ? Identification of vulnerable areas
- ? Monitoring and setting up of control rooms
- ? Warnings dissemination
- ? Arrangements for relief camps
- ? Arrangements for food, essential commodities, medical facilities, veterinary care, drinking water, transport.
- ? Arrangements of funds
- ? Alerting of administration, police and army authorities
- ? Community preparedness

II Steps to be taken during the disaster

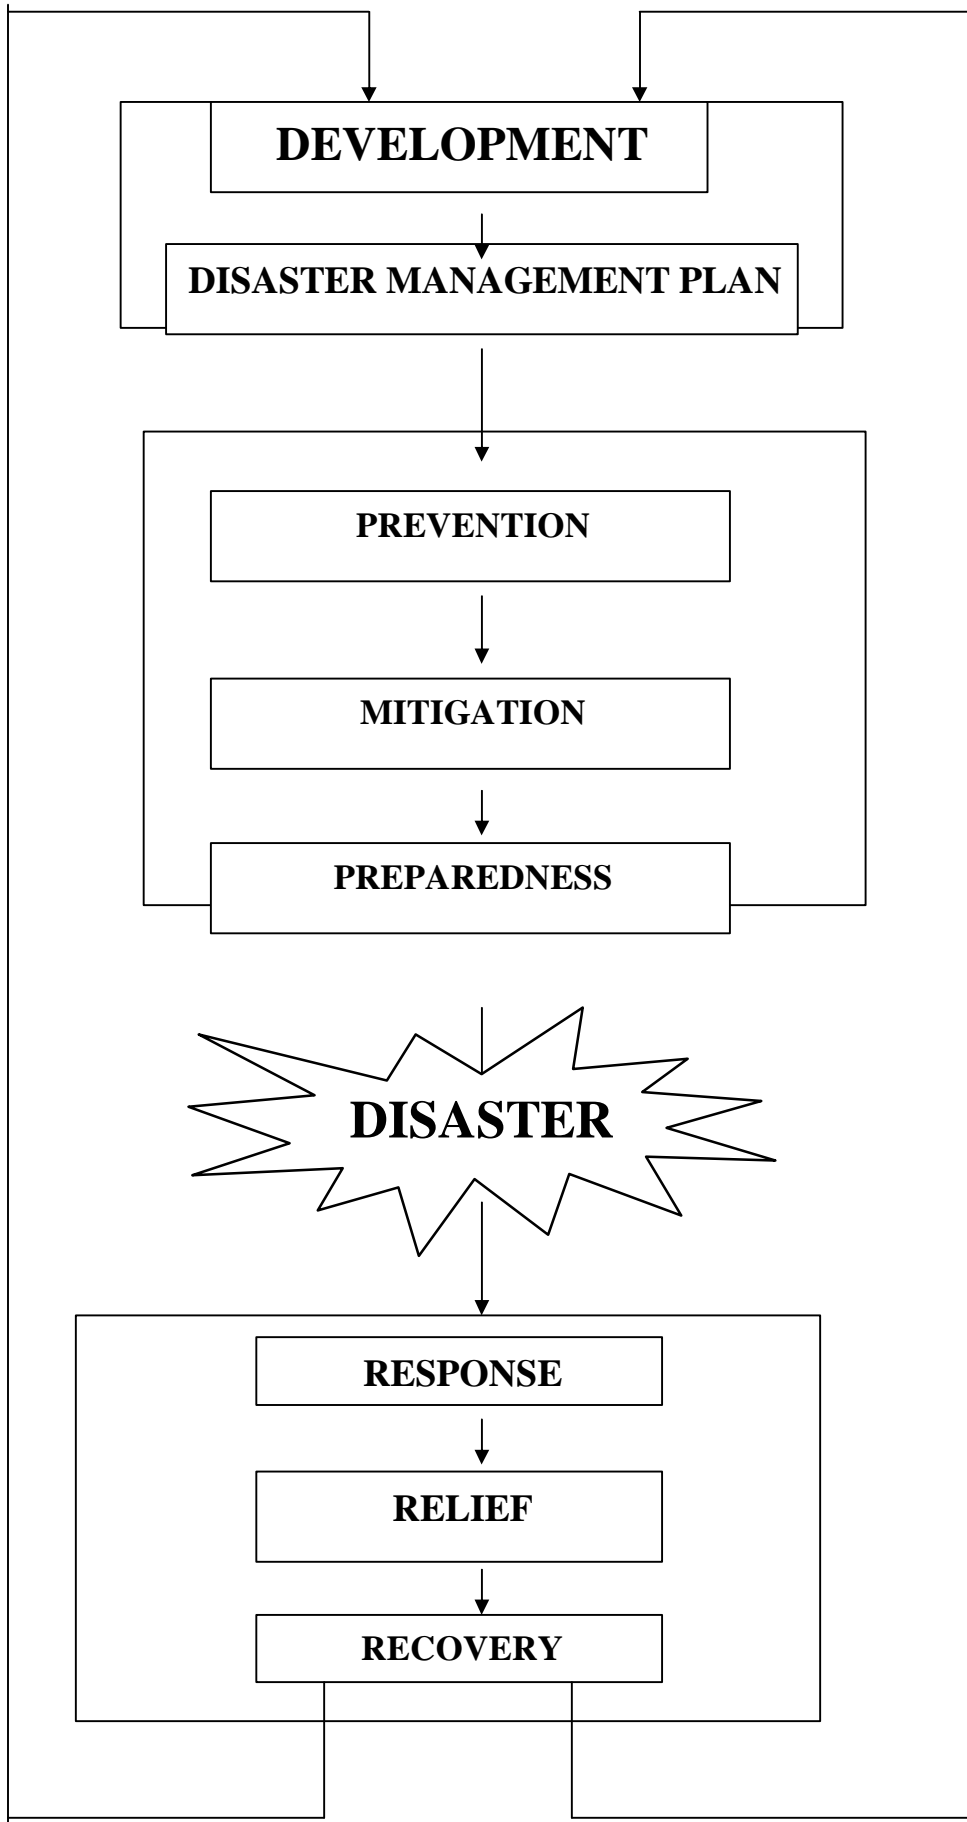

- ✗ Immediate evacuation
- ✗ Setting up of relief camps
- ✗ Handling of relief
- ✗ Monitoring and reporting
- ✗ VIP visits

III Steps to be taken immediately after the disaster

- o Disposal of dead bodies and carcasses
- o Cleaning of Debris, water etc.,
- o Disbursement of relief assistance

IV Steps to be taken for reconstruction

- ✗ Closure of relief camps
- ✗ Restoration of infrastructure
- ✗ Recognition of good work
- ✗ Feedback for future.

EMERGENCY OPERATION CENTRE

The policy of the Govt. of India emphasises on sustainable disaster risk reduction in all states/UTs by building capacities at all levels to institutionalize disaster risk management in the country. For strengthening the overall capacities for emergency/disaster response in the country, the Govt. of India is systematically assessing the existing systems at the national, state and district levels. One of the major challenges faced by the emergency responses managers at all levels is the fact that in the event of a disaster the existing communication network with the affected areas invariably becomes a casualty. The disruption of regular information-exchange about the disaster-related situation adversely impacts both the pace and level of rescue and relief activities, which are crucial in saving many precious lives.

The EOC is the physical location where an organization comes together during emergency to coordinate response and recovery actions and resources. The EOC will monitor hazards, disseminate accurate warning and coordinate response when the disaster strikes. The EOC is established to act as a resource centre for emergency response in the event of any disaster. It would be provided with workstations and communication equipments for management of emergencies.

The U.T. of Puducherry has established Emergency Operation Centre (EOC) at State Level and at the District Level as per the directions of Ministry of Home Affairs, New Delhi. Since, the construction and establishment of full-fledged Emergency Operation Centre (EOC) for State and District level will take some times, temporary State and District Levels Emergency Operation Centres have been set up in the following locations namely,

State Level EOC – I I nd Floor, Chief Secretariat
(opposite to the Chamber of Relief and Rehabilitation Commissioner), Puducherry.
Emergency Response No.: 0413-2233325

District Level EOC - Collectorate, I Floor, Revenue Complex,
Puducherry Pudhupalayam, Puducherry -13.
Emergency Response No.: 1070 (Toll Free)
0413-2231217

Karaikal - Collectorate, Karaikal
Emergency Response No. 1070 (Toll Free)
04368-222467

Thiru K. Veeramany, Deputy Tahsildar, will be the in-charge of the State Level EOC functioning at Chief Secretariat and Thiru P. Rajendiran Deputy Tahsildar, for the District Level EOC functioning at Collectorate, Puducherry. The duties of the in-charge of EOCs are as follows: -

- (i) Communication networking – Receiving information from the reliable agencies such as MHA, IMD, INCOI S etc.,
- (ii) Inter – departmental co-ordination.
- (iii) Maintaining I nventory Resources of all line departments.
- (iv) Receiving and disseminating warning, alert, etc. to the Communities
- (v) Access to Vulnerable areas in terms of communication.
- (vi) Ensure the ready reckoner of EOC materials.
- (vii) Maintaining the concurrence directory of important contact numbers.
- (viii) A databank of resources, action plans, district disaster management plan, community preparedness plan would be maintained at EOC.
- (ix) Maps indicating vulnerable areas identified shelters, communication link system with state Govt. and inter and intra district departments would strengthened.
- (x) Inventory of manpower resources with address, telephone number of key contact persons has been maintained.
- (xi) EOC have to identify desk arrangements during disaster situations.
- (xii) Frequently required important phone numbers would be displayed on the walls so that they can be referred whole other phones and addresses would be kept under a easy-retrieval and cross-referring system.
- (xiii) Maintaining daily weather report.

- ✍ If the area under the jurisdiction of the appropriate authority is clearly earmarked for different calamities, their vulnerability analysis and zoning need to be done at all levels - District, Block, Panchayat and urban areas.

Preparedness aspects

Action during calamity and Rehabilitation aspect

- ✍ Upon warning of impending calamity or on the occurrence of a calamity, activate control room for inflow of information and establish a clear line of control for efficient management of the calamity.
- ✍ On whose order to activate the Action Plan
- ✍ Render Relief – when and how to call Armed Forces help
- ✍ Restore Communication of damaged/affected.
- ✍ Action for rehabilitation and earliest restoration of normalcy.

All these aspects, which need to be covered at the preparedness stage, have rarely been seen to be part of a Plan, the situation is left to the local authorities to handle with whatever resource they can marshal. It has been seen and commented upon by several study teams that the level of requisite preparedness to meet a calamity was often left much to be desired.

The main flaw could be that while the revenue administration was fully geared to situation like drought/acute scarcities, where there was enough time to prepare and provide relief and succour, the same is not true with regard to the other contingencies which are emergent in nature like floods, earthquakes, etc. Systems ethos change slowly while the situation warranting a change have moved faster thus leaving the system far behind in the matter of preparedness.

It is time that all the state which are vulnerable to a calamity or more than one calamity draws out a preparedness plan/action plan to meet a given calamity. Since, the requirements are different, action plans against each calamity has to be different even when the machinery and support organization to implement the plan may be the same.

Important Relief Measures At District Level

The Relief measures listed out in the contingency plans are as follows:

1. Establishment of Control Room

Immediate after receipt of warning or otherwise of an impending disaster the first part of the action taken by the district administration is to establish a control room.

2. Administration of Relief

District is the primary level with requisite resources to respond to any natural calamity, through the issue of essential commodities group assistance to the affected people damage assessment and administrating appropriate rehabilitation and restoration measures.

3. Military Assistance

If the district administration feels that the situation is beyond its control, then immediate military assistance may be sought to carry out the relief operations.

4. Medical Care

Specialized Medical Care may be required to help the affected population. Besides, preventive medicine may have to be administered to prevent outbreak of diseases.

5. Epidemics

In the relief camps set up for the affected population, there is likelihood of epidemics from a number of sources. The strategy should be to subdue such sources and immunize the population against them.

6. Salvage

A major effort is needed to salvage destroyed structure and property. Essential services like communications, roads, bridges, electricity would have to be repaired and restored for normalization of activities.

7. Corpse/Carcasses Disposal

Disposal of dead bodies is to be carried out as part of the operation to prevent outbreak of epidemics.

8. Outside Relief

During disaster situations-considerable relief flows in from outside, thus there is an immediate need to co-ordinate the relief flow so that the maximum coverage is achieved and there is no duplication of work in the same area.

9. Special Relief

Along with compensation doles, essential items may have to be distributed to the affected population to provide for temporary sustenance.

10. Information

Information flow and review is essential part of the relief exercises, constant monitoring is required to assess the extent of damage which forms the basis of further relief to the affected area.

CHAPTER VI

Significant breaches along the waterways during earlier calamities need to be monitored closely with sufficient men and material. All the roads and bridges including culverts should be thoroughly inspected and roadworthiness/ stability be ensured. Alternative arrangements should be made for weak bridges and culverts, in order to ensure smooth traffic. Roadside channels should also be inspected and desilted to avoid damages to roads.

- a) Restore communication networks and ensure the integrity of the communication network;
- b) The Task Force in association with the Search & Rescue Teams of the Police and Fire should thoroughly search the affected area for survivors, injured and the dead if any;
- c) In case of heavy flooding and inundation, vehicular access may be restricted and hence suitable rafts/boats should be used to rescue the marooned people and evacuate them to safer places;
- d) The water logged in the habitation should be pumped out and to see that the pumped out water is let through the nearest channel or canal.
- e) If required fire engines should also be utilized for sucking water from the inundated area.

(H) DISSEMINATION OF CYCLONE / FLOOD
WARNING BY THE CENTRAL CONTROL ROOM

(I) RESCUE OPERATIONS:

The Zonal Officer and the Task Force Leader shall seek the aid of the Search & Rescue Team of the Police and Fire Services Department in rescue operations. If people are marooned, the District Magistrate shall inform the Government to seek the assistance of the I.R.B. or the Army to rescue the people when their lives are in danger, otherwise air dropping of food can be organized. List of areas wherein air dropping of food, rescue and aerial survey need be done should be got ready. However, Army should be requisitioned only when the State Government is not in a position to handle the critical situation.

(J) EVACUATION SCHEME:

It is the vested responsibility of the field level officials of the Department of Revenue & Disaster Management to evacuate the population from the low lying areas as detailed in Annexure-V and in the coastal areas on receipt of severe cyclone warning, in coordination with the task force. The people have to be evacuated and sheltered at the identified safer places/shelters as listed in Annexure-V. Once the floods hit, evacuation centers should be triggered into action. Depending upon the gravity of the situation, the Task Force shall requisition the Search & Rescue Team of the Police & Fire Services Departments for evacuation/rescue operations.

In order to avoid panic among the population the Task Force has to explain about the importance of their evacuation and the injured, if any, should be treated in safe shelters. The Task Force has to keep census of the evacuees. As soon as the normalcy is restored, the evacuees shall be allowed to go back to their dwellings. The Task Force should ensure provision of food and water to the evacuees.

(K) PROCEDURES TO BE FOLLOWED ON EVACUATION:

- b) Evacuation routes should not include roads likely to be sub-merged in floods, but may include pathways.
- c) Ensure proper evacuation by seeking community participation.
- d) Listen to a battery-powered radio and follow local instructions.
- e) In case of marooned persons, evacuation must be carried out as soon as possible and the persons transferred to the nearest shelter. If evacuation is not possible within 1 hour of the disaster, marooned people must be provided with water, medicines, first-aid and cooked food.

It shall be the duty and responsibility of the police personnel deployed for such relief operations to prevent commission of cognizable offences including all offences against property, human body and public tranquility. Police arrangements should be made at the cyclone shelters, relief centers etc. Unless public confidence is generated and sustained that their properties and belongings are properly guarded in their absence, evacuations efforts will not yield good results. Therefore Police Department should spare effort to infuse such confidence in the general public.

(M) Role of Civil Defence: -

The Civil Defence being a community based voluntary organization can, in addition to rescue, relief and rehabilitation, also play a stellar role in the field of Community Capacity Building and public awareness to face any disaster situation. In terms of the Civil Defence Act, 1968, their organization is presently meant to provide protection to individuals, properties and establishment against any hostile act only in a limited number of categorized Civil Defence terms. However, in pursuance of order dated 5th September 2003 of the Ministry of Home Affairs, Govt. of India some of the States are effectively utilizing the services of Civil Defence Volunteers for post-disaster response and Relief as also for pre-disaster activities related to mitigation and preparedness.

In the U.T. of Puducherry, the Home Guards are functioning under the Civil Defence Act, 1968 and their duties inter-alia, to assist police during Natural Calamities. Their association with Disaster Management will get more prominence after institution of Civil Defence Training School in this U.T. of Puducherry.

At present, the Home Guards units in Puducherry in functioning under the control of Senior Supdt. of Police (C&I)-cum-Commandant Home Guards and over all supervision of Inspr. General of Police –cum- Commandant General Home Guards.

The Task Force is empowered to engage any local labourer and pay due remuneration out of their contingency fund provided to them. Disposal of dead bodies and carcasses will pose a difficult problem if the cyclone occurs in the rainy season as there would not be even space to bury the dead bodies and carcasses. In such cases burning of the dead bodies and carcasses would be the only alternative. The Collector and Sub/Deputy Collectors (Revenue) in consultation with the Superintendent of Police should make adequate arrangements for preparation of community pyres and dispose of human bodies and carcasses by burning. Burning of the bodies should be resorted to only when burial is not possible.

The Relief Commissioner plays direct and active role in relief. The Relief Commissioner either directly or through the respective District Collectors, co-ordinates and monitors the relief efforts using all the resources available with the State Government.

In order to ensure timely assistance to the people affected by natural calamities, it is necessary that correct assessment of the extent of damages to crops, public and private properties and loss of human lives and cattle heads etc., should be made as quickly as possible. ### ii) LOCAL BODIES:

Restoration of traffic as quickly as possible after clearing the fallen trees or breaches is very important as without communication relief work cannot be done with the speed required.

iii) RESTORATION OF DRINKING WATER SUPPLY:

The P.W.D. and the Local Bodies should ensure restoration of supply of clean drinking water. The chlorinated drinking water should be supplied till the restoration of normal supply of drinking water.

iv) SUPPLY OF VEGETABLE AND PADDY SEEDS:

The Agriculture Department after assessing the extent of damage to crops and to the agricultural fields, should supply vegetable and paddy seeds along with the pesticides. Apart from this, the agricultural loans obtained by the affected agriculturalists should be assessed to claim insurance indemnity and for Government assistance for farmers.

CHAPTER - IX

GUIDELINES FOR RELIEF NORMS AND ASSESSMENT OF DAMAGES

RELIEF NORMS

Our country is multi-disaster prone and our foremost aim is to be in a position of preparedness to save life and property. Damages to life and property is the aftermath of any disaster. In order to extend relief and extend succor to the affected people, the Government is duty bound to extend all types of financial assistances and help to the suffering victims so as to bring them back to normal life. Such assistance as Gratuitous Relief and Housing Subsidy being currently extended by this Administration was based on the norms fixed by the Government of India.

For incurring expenditure from the Calamity Relief Fund (CRF) and the National Calamity Contingency Fund (NCCF), the Govt. of India, Ministry of Home Affairs, New Delhi has permitted the Government of Puducherry to follow the norms/ceilings as laid down by the Government of India in the matter of payment of ex-gratia relief to the victims of natural calamity from CRF and NCCF. Accordingly, the Govt. of Puducherry has issued orders from time to time which is a guideline in the matter of payment of ex-gratia. The Govt. of Puducherry has issued an order under G.O. Ms. No.76, dated 20.08.2007 of the Dept. of Revenue & Disaster Management (Annexure IX).

ASSESSMENT OF DAMAGES

Damage assessment is the responsibility of the district/local administration which covers all aspects of private as well as public properties, including loss of crops etc., An inventory of all such details is prepared along with the estimated costs of damages and sent to the State Government who may release funds from the Calamity Relief Fund for distribution of assistance at the prescribed norms.

If the calamity is found to be beyond the capability of the State Government to meet from CRF, then a memorandum detailing the damages caused and the help required is sent to the Central Government. The Central Government may, after examination, decide to depute a Central Team to make an "on the spot" assessment of damages caused by the calamity. They arrive at their own conclusion after visits to the affected areas and arrive at a certain figure required to meet the calamity. Thus the final figures of damage assessment is that of the State Government when they do not call the Central Government for assistance but where they do call; the final figure of damages is that of Central Team. It forms the basis for distribution of assistance at the prescribed norms. If the State Government does not fall in line with the Centre's Assessment, they assist as per their own assessment, but funding has to, in that case, come from the state's own resources

Providing of food, clothing, temporary shelters, medical assistance etc, are the immediate relief measures in any disaster occurred area. However, reconstruction and rehabilitation is the long term relief measures which has to be provided only based on the survey of damages and as such, assessment of damage plays a vital role in rebuilding the disaster affected community. The damages is not only to the life and property of the human being but also to livestock, agriculture, plantation, road, water supply, electricity, other infrastructure facilities, etc., This paper work of damage assessment is very much helpful for the compensation proceeding and the Govt. of India has issued a set of Proformae in a simplified form to assess the various types of damages in a quick and easy way. The various Proformae are at Annexure X. The officials of the concerned line departments while assessing the damage shall use the relevant proforma invariably during their assessment process.

CHAPTER- X:

AWARENESS ON DISASTERS

Awareness generation is the key to disaster risk reduction. An effective disaster risk mitigation may be developed in consultation with all stakeholders for public education to take preventive measures in the event of any disaster. Massive and sustained awareness campaigns may be taken up through out the UT for preparedness through various mass medias, rallies, mass meetings, audio-visual shows, distribution of pamphlets, posters covering various aspects of disasters, their effects, Do's and Don'ts in local language to create awareness among the people about vulnerability to disasters.

AN OVERVIEW OF DO's & DON'Ts

(A) BEFORE FLOOD OCCURS

- ? Know local flood plans (or records) with details of vulnerable areas and evacuation routes and centers
- ? Keep a list of emergency phone numbers on display
- ? Keep an emergency kit on hand which includes :
  - a) Transistor radio, torch and spare batteries
  - b) Stock of canned food and fresh water
  - c) First aid kit, manual and gloves
  - d) Waterproof bags for clothing and valuables.

(B) DO's & DON'Ts

- ? Tune to your local radio for warnings and advice
- ? Prepare to move vehicles, outdoor equipments, garbage, chemicals and poisons to higher locations.
- ? Disconnect all electrical appliances
- ? Turn off electricity and gas if you have to leave the house.
- ? Do not allow children to play in, or near, flood waters.
- ? Never wander around in flooded area
- ? Don't dive into water of unknown depth and current.
- ? Don't eat food which has come in contact with flood waters.

ii) DURING CYCLONE:

The actions that need to be taken in the event of a cyclone threat can broadly be divided into four classes, viz., (i) immediately before the cyclone season; (ii) when cyclone alerts and warnings are on; (iii) when evacuations are advised; and (iv) when the cyclone has crossed the coast.

(i) Before the Cyclone season:

- ? Check the house; secure loose tiles, carry out repair works for doors and windows
- ? Remove dead woods or dying trees close to the house; anchor removable objects like lumber piles, loose tin sheds, loose bricks, garbage cans, sign-boards etc. which can fly in strong winds
- ? Keep some wooden boards ready so that glass windows can be boarded if needed
- ? Keep a hurricane lantern filled with kerosene, battery operated torches and enough dry cells
- ? Demolish condemned buildings
- ? Keep some extra batteries for transistors
- ? Keep some dry non-perishable food always ready for emergency use

(ii) When the Cyclone starts

- ? Listen to the radio (All India Radio stations give weather warnings).
- ? Keep monitoring the warnings. This will help you to prepare for a cyclone emergency.
- ? Pass on the information to others.
- ? Ignore rumours and do not spread them; this will help to avoid panic situations.
- ? Believe in the official information
- ? When a cyclone alert is on for your area continue normal working but stay alert to the radio warnings.
- ? Remember that a cyclone alert means that the danger is within 24 hours. Stay alert.
- ? When your area is under cyclone warning get away from low-lying beaches or other low-lying areas close to the coast
- ? Leave early before your way to high ground or shelter gets flooded
- ? Do not delay and run the risk of being marooned
- ? If your house is securely built on high ground take shelter in the safer part of the house. However, if asked to evacuate do not hesitate to leave the place.
- ? Board up glass windows or put storm shutters in place.
- ? Provide strong suitable support for outside doors.

- ? If you do not have wooden boards handy, paste paper strips on glasses to prevent splinters. However, this may not avoid breaking windows.
- ? Get extra food, which can be eaten without cooking. Store extra drinking water in suitably covered vessels.
- ? If you are to evacuate the house move your valuable articles to upper floors to minimize flood damage.
- ? Have hurricane lantern, torches or other emergency lights in working conditions and keep them handy.
- ? Small and loose things, which can fly in strong winds, should be stored safely in a room.
- ? Be sure that a window and door can be opened only on the side opposite to the one facing the wind.
- ? Make provision for children and adults requiring special diets.
- ? If the centre of the cyclone is passing directly over your house there will be a lull in the wind and rain lasting for half an hour or so. During this time do not go out; because immediately after that very strong winds will blow from the opposite direction.
- ? Switch off electrical mains in your house.
- ? Remain calm.

(iii) When Evacuation is instructed

- ? Pack essentials for yourself and your family to last you a few days, including medicines, special foods for babies and children or elders.
- ? Head for the proper shelter or evacuation points indicated for your area.
- ? Do not worry about your property
- ? At the shelter follow instructions of the person in charge.
- ? Remain in the shelter until you have been informed to leave

(iv) Post-cyclone measures

- ? You should remain in the shelter until informed that you can return to your home.
- ? You must get inoculated against diseases immediately.
- ? Strictly avoid any loose and dangling wires from the lamp posts.
- ? If you are to drive, drive carefully.
- ? Clear debris from your premises immediately.
- ? Report the correct loss to appropriate authorities.

CHAPTER- XI

CONCLUSION

With increasing importance on the preparedness and preventive measures for disaster mitigation, immense initiatives have been taken by appropriate authorities at various levels. A paradigm shift from relief & rehabilitation and post disaster assistance to pre disaster mitigation efforts has not gone unnoticed.

All the officers and staff drafted in this regard should involve themselves in a most dedicated manner and they should exercise utmost diligence patience and tolerance in the discharge of the duties and under no circumstances that the public should feel that they are deserted and uncared. All the services are required to do as teamwork, irrespective of their cadres.

The Govt. of India have enacted the Disaster Management Act, 2005 and various provisions of the said Act came into force in the whole of U.T. of Puducherry with effect from 01.08.2007 (vide Gazette No.77 dated 01.08.2007). The Act provides for the effective management of disasters and various provisions enables to act in a proactive manner. Responsibilities of various departments of State Governments and Local Authorities have been detailed apart from penal provisions under Chapter X of the Act. Therefore, as a matter of preparedness, no Officer shall leave their headquarters. Without the knowledge of the Collector even when they are allowed to do so by their superiors. This instruction be strictly carried out from the month of October to December' 2008 as their services will be required at any time during the Monsoon. In case an Officer is allowed to leave headquarters, it should be the responsibility of the Officer leaving the headquarters to keep a responsible person in charge of him to answer / explain the activities of the office as and when required. The departmental Officers must be always in readiness to move to the field for relief duties.

It may be recollected that the U.T. of Puducherry had experienced by heavy flood/cyclone in many occasions in the past including the Tsunami tragedy on 26th December 2004 and the calamities was however tackled successfully with the fullest cooperation of all officials / public / voluntary organization etc. It is expected that similar cooperation shall be extended from one and all in the case of any emergency in the ensuing North East Monsoon 2008 also. This manual is useful not only to Flood/Cyclones but also to any type of disaster at any time
